

Project Officer – Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health

General Practice Training

Project Officer – Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health

General Practice Training Tasmania (GPTT) is a federally funded not for profit organisation funded by the Commonwealth Department of Health, to deliver the Australian General Practice Training Program and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health strategic initiatives.

The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander strategic plan will build capacity, through sustainable approaches, to the development and delivery of quality GP registrar training in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health.

Reporting to the Director of Education, this position will primarily be responsible for:

- Project management, including the development and implementation of strategic initiatives.
- Stakeholder engagement and collaboration with partner organisations.
- Monitoring, reporting and evaluation.

The successful applicant will have the ability to manage projects and interact in an effective and culturally appropriate manner with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, communities and organisations. High level interpersonal, written and verbal communication skills are essential.

Past experience in a project role, an education environment, in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health, together with an understanding of Aboriginal Primary Health Care Principles is desirable.

A copy of the position description is available at www.gptt.com.au.

For further enquiries please contact Ms Tricia Minck, Director Corporate Services on (03) 6215 5000.

Please submit your application to enquiries@gptt.com.au. Applications close on Sunday 28 January 2018 and must address the selection criteria as detailed within the position description.

ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER PEOPLE ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY